YOUTH ADMITS FLEEING POLICE; HELD FOR COURT AND FINED $25

A 23-year-old motorist who almost struck the borough police car last Friday night on York street and then drove three miles east on the Lincoln highway with his lights out to avoid detection, pleaded guilty at the conclusion of a hearing Wednesday night before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, but only after steadfastly denying the charges and the testimony of other witnesses throughout most of the hearing.

At the conclusion of the latter, the defendant, John Leo Gallagher, Orrtanna R. 1, turned to borough officers and asked: "What's the matter with that police car that you couldn't catch me?"

He signed pleas of guilty to charges of reckless driving, on which he was fined $25 and costs, and to turning out his lights to avoid apprehension. On the latter charge he was held for sentence court and released in $500 bail.

Boasts Brought Arrest

Gallagher was caught, authorities said, because he boasted about giving Borough Officers Raymond E. Menges and Paul B. Shearer the slip.

According to the testimony submitted at the hearing Wednesday night, Gallagher had been in Emmitsburg earlier in the evening and then drove, with two companions, one of them a girl, to Gettysburg. Going east on York street at 10 o'clock, Gallagher took the inside of the curve at the Lincoln school. The police car was traveling west and Gallagher narrowly missed striking it, police said. "I'll never be any closer to an accident," one of the officers said.

The police car turned around and gave chase to Gallagher but was never able to get close enough to identify the driver or get the license number. Gallagher, police said, attained a high rate of speed and at the borough line switched off his lights and drove three miles to an inn on the Lincoln highway, passing several other vehicles enroute with his lights off.

Returned To Town

At the inn, according to other occupants of the car, Gallagher waited for ten or 15 minutes, then returned to Gettysburg, driving on York street, Liberty street, Water street and Franklin street to a point where one of his companions had parked his own car. Gallagher and the girl then returned to Emmitsburg.

On Saturday night, according to authorities, Gallagher bragged about getting away from the police car, and it was this bragging, police said, that gave them their lead that led to his arrest.

Cornerstone Laid

At Lutheran Home

Thirty-five members of the St. James Lutheran church attended Founder's Day at the National Lutheran home in Washington, D. C. Wednesday. The cornerstone for the Pennsylvania building was laid by Rev. George H. Berkheimer, secretary of the Central Pennsylvania synod.

SOIL DISTRICT STAFF BUSY ON FARM PROJECTS

Members of the Adams County Soil Conservation district carried out a number of activities during the past week. G. Ed. Taughinbaugh, newly elected director of the district, said today.

Sixteen farm plans were completed in addition to a great amount of work on construction of diversion terraces, carrying out drainage surveys and the like.

Farms for which plans were completed included those of Ernest Brown, Gettysburg R. 3; Lloyd Heller, Gettysburg R. 3, S. A. Simmons, Gettysburg R. 1; M. E. Rouse, Gettysburg R. 4; Harry E. DeGroot, Littlestown R. 1; James Kump, Orrtanna R. 1; S. G. Sollenberger, Gettysburg; A. R. LeVan, Gettysburg; Claude Kleindienst, East Berlin R. 1; Daniel Dietrick, Gettysburg R. 1; Laban Hershey, Gettysburg R. 3; John E. Stoner, Knoxlyn; Leo Redding, Gettysburg R. 2, and Paul Lerew, East Berlin R. 1.

The district's M-99 grader completed 825 feet of diversion terrace at the Russell Stoops farm, Gettysburg R. 4, and 2,000 feet of diversion terrace at the farm of S. A. Simmons, Gettysburg R. 1. A total of 4,100 feet of tile was installed at the Clarence Fuss farm on Gettysburg R. 4, and 4,200 acres were soil mapped. Drainage surveys were made on the Raymond Briar farm tenanted by Harold Moul, Hanover R. 1, which indicated a planned installation of 3,350 feet of draining tile. A survey made for Charles Baird for surface drainage indicated that 1,800 feet of diversion terrace and approximately 6,000 feet of open ditching will be placed on that Gettysburg R. 3 farm. Pond surveys were made on the Glatfelter tree farm at Iron Springs; Edward Geiman farm, Littlestown R. 1, and Daniel Dietrick farm, Gettysburg R. 1. The pond on the J. H. Smith farm, Gettysburg R. 3, was reported nearing completion.

County Couple Is Wed In Westminster

Miss Ida Elizabeth Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Seven Stars, became the bride of Robert M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sewell M. Smith, also of Seven Stars, in a double ring ceremony performed last Friday evening at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Eugene C. Woodward in the Methodist parsonage at Westminster.

The bride wore a light green street length suit with white accessories and an orchid for her corsage.

Their only attendant was the bridegroom's mother who wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride graduated from Gettysburg high school this year. The bridegroom attended school in Baltimore and is now employed by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Francis, near Fairfield.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip through Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia.

Family Party Marks 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lock, York street, Wednesday evening celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a family party held at their home.

The local shoemaker and his wife, the former Miss Ethel Heyman, of Baltimore, were married Sunday, June 14, 1925, at Conway Hall, Baltimore, by Rabbi Rivkin. Mr. Lock had come to Gettysburg from Harrisburg on May 14, 1924, and has been located at his shop on York street since that time.

The couple has two children, a daughter, Mrs. Bernard Schlachman, Baltimore, and a son, Sidney, who graduated from Gettysburg high school this year.

Miss Lorraine Hemler (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hemler, 261 Buford avenue, is the only Adams countian among 50 girls being graduated from the Harrisburg hospital school of nursing in exercises at the Forum at 8:15 p.m. She is a Gettysburg high school graduate in the class of 1947.

Miss Miriam Keeney (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Keeney, East Broadway, graduates from the Temple University School of Nursing in Philadelphia. She graduated from Gettysburg high school with the class of 1946 and attended Juniata college at Huntingdon, Pa., for one year.

Biglerville Residents Talk Over Community On Wednesday At Old Fashioned Town Meeting

Two hundred Biglerville area residents gathered at the community hall Wednesday evening to discuss what was good and what was bad about their community at an old-fashioned "town meeting" sponsored by the Business club of the borough.

The speakers found much that was good in their community, and they found much that they felt needed improving to make the area a better place in which to live.

No action was taken on any suggestion—it was not that type of meeting. But from the enthusiasm shown it was indicated that a number of developments will be getting underway in the borough.

Borough Park On List

One of those developments will probably be the restoration of something like the old "firemen's woods" as a borough park.

A number of speakers recalled with pleasure the "firemen's park," a woods near the edge of town where picnics were held, programs given, and sandboxes and other facilities were available for the youngsters. The park fell into disfavor, according to reports made at the meeting, due to odors from industrial wastes dumped nearby. That problem has been eliminated, according to several residents at Wednesday's meeting, and it was indicated that some attempt will be made to restore the area, or some similar area as a park.

To Study Sewer System

Another development that may come from the meeting will be a thorough study of the possibility of installing a sewer system in the community. J. D. Miller, cashier of the Biglerville National bank, and others warned that now is the time to begin a study of how to put in such a system, noting that at some future date the borough will probably be forced by the state to install a sewer system.

The program Wednesday night was heralded Tuesday evening by Ralph Shetter, who, garbed in a colonial costume, mounted a horse and with bell and voice acted as town crier, announcing the fact that the meeting was to occur.

161 Adults Register

Shetter's velvet breeches served only on Tuesday night and he appeared in ordinary riding breeches commissioners in Austria.

BULLETINS

New York, June 15 (AP)—A special federal grand jury today cleared government officials and agencies of any shortcoming in the Amerasia stolen documents case.

At the same time, however, the jury called upon the Department of Justice to issue a detailed report on the case. The panel has been investigating subversive activities for the past 18 months.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—A Presidential board today recommended a 40-hour week and an 18-cent hourly pay increase for about 75,000 railroad yard service employees. It recommended denial of wage boosts for about 125,000 trainmen and conductors.

The emergency board filed its report with President Truman. Such recommendations usually are the basis for settling rail labor disputes.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The United States has called on Russia to join with the Big Three Western powers in naming civilian high commissioners to replace military

SICKLES FILES FIRST CHARGES IN HEALTH DRIVE

First prosecutions in the board of health's "crackdown" on illegal garbage containers and enforcement of summer collection schedules have been made by Borough Health Officer Eugene E. Sickles.

Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor today sent a 10-day notice to Paul Plank, Gettysburg R. 1, a garbage collector, on a charge that Plank was not making two collections a week during the summer months, as required by the borough ordinance.

A second charge filed against Plank by the health officer alleges that he has failed to file a schedule of rates with Burgess William G. Weaver, as also required by the ordinance.

Others To Be Charged

Mares Sherman, owner of the Sherman apartments, York street, was charged by Sickles with failing to have the garbage cans used by apartment dwellers properly covered. He paid a fine of $5 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Sickles said charges were pending against others, and would be filed with the two justices of the peace.

The prosecutions follow the announcement last week that the "warning period" was over, and persons not complying with the ordinance would find charges filed against them.

DR. A. R. WENTZ FLIES TO EUROPE

Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, flew from New York city Wednesday for Germany, where he will assist in rehabilitation work among the Protestant churches of western Germany this summer.

The work is under the supervision of the National Lutheran Council. Dr. Wentz expects to return to Gettysburg late in August. His work in Germany will take him to several cities.

Dr. Harry P. Baughman, member of the seminary faculty, said today no further definite steps had been taken toward the erection of a new dormitory at the seminary.

The new dorm was authorized by the board of directors at a recent meeting, but actual work depends upon the results of the Christian Higher Education Year fund campaign. Dr. Baughman said.

Work will not be started until funds become available.

2 Are Graduated From Pennsylvania

Two Adams countians received their diplomas this morning with the largest class in the 210-year history of the University of Pennsylvania, at commencement exercises in the municipal auditorium in Philadelphia. The class numbered nearly 2,400 men and women.

The local graduates include the former Shirley A. Larkin, 315 North Stratton street, who received a degree of bachelor of fine arts, and Edward S. Acker, New Oxford, who received a degree of master of arts.

Rev. Doyle To Attend Brotherhood Sessions

The national office of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in York has received the registration of the Rev. Willis R. Doyle, rector of Prince of Peace church, here, who will attend the 32nd national convention of the Brotherhood at Dickinson college, Carlisle, June 26 to 30.

Among the delegates will be Lt. Col. Paul C. Rusch, noted American missionary in Japan, where he is executive vice president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Colonel Rusch will be joined by a number of delegates from Japan as well as Jack Huang of China, Frederick R. Stevenson of Scotland, E. S. Whitworth of England and Eugene P. Pucay of the Philippines, and by men from Canada and British Guiana.

Prince of Peace church has recently formed an active chapter of the Brotherhood, a world-wide organization of laymen in the Anglican Communion.

SUV TO MEET

Saturday night shopping prevails in nearly half of 148 communities covered in a study of store hours in Pennsylvania cities and towns, the Pennsylvania Retailers' association reports. Most of the communities offering Saturday night shopping are located in cities and towns of less than 25,000 population. Friday night shopping is favored by 36 communities.

The remaining communities covered in the survey, about 25 per cent of the total reporting, divide their night shopping between Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, with 14 communities not offering any evening shopping to their public, excepting at special seasons in a few instances.

Another phase of the study shows the pattern of store closings. Of 113 communities reporting to this question, the most popular closing time is Wednesday afternoons the year 'round excepting November and December. This policy prevails chiefly in communities of less than 25,000 population. Wednesday afternoon closing during summer for periods of two to five months is the practice in 36 cities and towns.

This study of store hours by the Pennsylvania Retailers' association represents a most (Please Turn to Page 2)

Send County Boy To Camp Easter Seal

The Adams County Crippled Children's society will send William Chrismer, a crippled 12-year-old boy who has a hip dislocation and must use braces, to Camp Easter Seal at Laurel Hill in Somerset county, it was announced following the June meeting of the society directors. Wednesday afternoon.

The boy will go to the camp July 5 and remain for six weeks. Last year another county youth attended the camp but this year the county has a quota of two campers and the society is attempting to arrange to send a polio victim from this county to complete the Adams quota.

Camp Easter Seal and Camp Dady Allen in the Poconos are operated by the state Crippled Children's society largely with funds secured through Easter seal sales. The funds used by the county society to finance the boy's camping trip also come from seal receipts.

Dr. R. S. Saby presided at the meeting which was held at 17 North Washington street. The group decided to omit regular meetings until October but will meet at the call of the president in event some emergency matter requires their attention.

Plan Bible School At Iron Springs

The Daily Vacation Bible school of the Iron Springs Brethren in Christ church will begin Monday, June 19, and continue for two weeks until June 30. This year the Bible school will be held in the evenings, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. The community has been visited by teams of workers, and invitations personally extended to attend Bible school. It is expected that there will be a large enrollment.

Leonard A. Falk, the pastor of the church, will be the superintendent of the school, and the teachers and workers who will assist him are: Mrs. Hilda Myers, Mrs. C. C. Entenmann, Mrs. Vergie Hess, Mrs. Mary Jane Swisher, Mrs. William Dick, Miss Mary Margaret Izer, Mrs. Esta Sanders, Miss Noma McClellan, Mrs. Francis Fleming, Glenn Hess, Daniel Myers, Ira Carson and Mrs. Falk.

AUMEN QUILTS AS FIRE CHIEF; DELAY ACTION ON RESIGNATION

James A. Aumen, chief of the Gettysburg Fire company for the last 14 years, submitted his resignation as chief Wednesday night at the regular June meeting of the firemen held at the 40 and 8 Chateau in the mountains.

The resignation was in writing, and was read by the secretary, Harold Culp. Aumen expressed his appreciation for the loyalty and cooperation given him during the years he has been chief, but gave no reason for his resignation. He was not present at the meeting.

The firemen voted to postpone until the next meeting, to be held July 12, action on the resignation and authorized that a committee of five members be appointed to confer with Aumen before accepting the resignation.

March Presides

George D. March, a past president of the Firemen's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, presided at the meeting in the absence of James B. Aumen, president, and William G. Weaver, vice president. He named the following committee: Glenn Weishaar, Richard C. Cole, Carl Oyler, Walter B. Lane and Stanley Sprankle to talk with Chief Aumen.

On the recommendation of a special committee appointed at the May meeting, the firemen voted against the purchase of a property offered to the company by Charles Sterner, a member, for a summer home. The property, located near Hilltown, included 7 1/2 acres with two buildings and two springs, electricity, and space for parking 1,000 automobiles. Edward A. Culp, chairman of the special committee, said the cost of improvements would be too high.

Fred G. Pfeiffer, chairman of the spectacle committee for the Sesqui-Centennial celebration to be held the week preceding Labor Day, appeared at the meeting to request at least 50 fire company members to assist with the pageant. He said the committee would like several firemen, in uniform, to act as ushers, others to be used in the cast and still others for stage hands. The appointment of a committee and further action on the request was deferred until the July meeting.

Add Two Members

Two applicants, approved by the investigating committee, were accepted as members of the fire company, Howard E. Hankey, 124 West High street, and William E. Woodward, 114 West High street. The applications of George E. Tate, 101 York street, for membership and Maurice W. Shindeldecker for reinstatement were referred to the investigating committee. Fred P. Haehnlein, Jr., was dropped from the rolls at his own request. He informed the firemen that he is employed in Harrisburg and would be unable to attend fires or meetings.

James S. Shenk, co-chairman of the general committee for the celebration of the 87th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, reported that 60 units have thus far signed up for the Fourth of July parade. He said the parade would be the biggest since the 75th reunion, and appealed for the cooperation of every member throughout the five-day celebration. Setting up of tents on the recreation field, where the entertainment features of the celebration will be held, will begin June 27, he said.

To Parade In Irishtown

The firemen accepted the recommendation of the donation committee and voted $35 to the Salvation Army. Notice was read that the third quarterly meeting of the Adams County Firemen's association will be held at Kingsdale July 10 at 8 p.m. A letter of thanks was received from Albert V. Cardenti, chairman of the Elks Flag Day committee, thanking the fire company for participating in the Flag Day parade and exercises Monday night.

The firemen voted to take part in the parade at Irishtown June 24, but turned down invitations to parade at Owings Mills, Md. Friday night and at Palmyra Sunday afternoon.

The following refreshment committee was appointed for the July meeting: Guy Pouk, Donald Hamers, Clifford Harmon, Paul Helwig and Henry Herring.

Fried chicken, potato salad and chips were served following the meeting. Later a test was conducted between the fire company's radio station at the fire engine house and the service truck, located at the chateau. The test was successful and showed that contact can be maintained with firemen during their summer meetings. The company decided to hold the July meeting at the same place, at the 40 and 8 chateau.

CHANGE CLINIC DAY

The regular tuberculosis clinic at the Warner hospital will be held next week on Monday instead of Tuesday, it was announced today by Miss Mildred Eden, state nurse.

PERU REVOLT SUPPRESSED AFTER 2 DAYS

Lima, Peru, June 15 (AP)—At least 40 persons were believed today to have been killed in a two-day revolt during which rebels captured most of the city of Arequipa. The government announced loyal troops, moving into the city, had put down the revolt.

The government blamed Communists for the uprising. Arequipa, with a population of 93,000, is Peru's second largest city. The rebels at one time held the city hall, military headquarters, the airport, a radio station and other buildings.

No official figures on casualties were announced, but there were many wounded in addition to the 40 estimated dead.

A government communique last night said "determined intervention by the armed forces" had subdued "the Communist movement at Arequipa" and restored public order.

(In New York ousted former President Jose Luis Bustamante, deposed in 1948 by the military government now ruling Peru, said the Communist charge against the rebels was "grotesque." The revolt, he said, was a "counter-revolution of the people.")

Asking for Aid

The revolt was led by Francisco J. Mostajo, an opponent of the military cabinet, another communique said. Mostajo's opposition candidacy for vice president in the elections scheduled July 2 was rejected by the national election board last Sunday.

A revel broadcast said the revolt flared up after a clash between the striking university students and the police Tuesday in which two students were killed and a number hurt.

Indicating a large number of persons had been wounded, another broadcast from Arequipa called for volunteer doctors and nurses to come to the hospital and help with the injured.

SECURITY BILL TO BE APPROVED

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Senate approval of higher old-age pensions than those proposed in a Social Security bill now up for consideration was indicated today by both Democratic and Republican leaders.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois told reporters he is satisfied that the Senate will go beyond the recommendations of its finance committee in boosting maximum benefits payable under the retirement and survivors' insurance system.

Similarly, Senator Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said most of his GOP colleagues appeared to favor a greater increase in top benefits.

The Senate agreed yesterday to start voting on the bill and all amendments at 3 p.m. (EST) Tuesday.

The legislation, passed by the House last year in different form would add about 10,000,000 persons to the $5,000,000 now covered by the retirement system, sharply increase benefit payments and liberalize eligibility requirements.

The maximum individual benefit for a retired worker would be $72.50 a month, compared with a presently available top of $46 and a maximum of $64 under the House bill.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Oh—My Aching Feet!

Other night just as I was settling down with a book and a mellow glass of beer, the wife calls down, "Joe—I almost forgot—you and I are going over to the High School and take dancing lessons!"

Now, I can waltz with the best of them, so I put up a quiet struggle against going but it was no use. Turns out it was the class in square dancing. And from the look on some of the other men I judged I wasn't the only one there who had been taken by surprise!

Miss Williams and Curly Lawson taught us what to do with our feet, and before it was over, darn if I wasn't actually enjoying myself. Going back next week, too!

From where I sit, we sometimes get an idea into our head for or against something and then hang onto it for dear life. Whether it's square dancing, or the right to enjoy temperate beer or ale now and then, we owe it to ourselves as Americans to take an open-minded attitude—that's even after we make up our minds about it!

Scoring 11 runs in the first three frames which featured a six-run attack in the second inning, the Texas Lunch scored an unexpected easy 12-2 victory over the Moore in the softball league Wednesday evening and gained a first-place tie with the G. L. Bream garage.

Bartholomew permitted the Moore but six hits including a home run by Joe Hess. Bushman and Himes each pounded out a trio of hits for the Lunch.

Seven runs in the second inning paved the way for the Elks to take the nightcap from the Lentz Legion by a 12-5 count.

Included in the 14 hits secured by the Elks were a home run by Ross Sachs and a triple and double by Jimmy Woods. Warner collected three safeties for the Legionnaires.

Women Matched On Harrisburg Link

Harrisburg, June 15 (AP)—It was Ellen Gery, current leader, versus Betty Fehl, 1949 winner, in the Central Pennsylvania Women's Golf tournament at the West Shore Country club today.

The two Reading golfers were matched after Miss Gery defeated Mrs. C. B. Beath, of Meadia Heights, Lancaster, 2-up yesterday, while Miss Fehl turned back Mrs. Norman Kime, of West Shore, with a convincing 8 and 7 triumph.

In other championship flight play yesterday, Mrs. John Dunn, Hazleton, defeated Sonia Wise, York, two-up, and Mrs. Lynn Creason, Harrisburg, won over Mrs. Ed Town, West Shore, 5-4.

Ladies' Tournament Won By Mrs. Bender

Mrs. George Bender won the nine-hole blind bogie with a net score of 42 held in connection with Ladies' Day at the Gettysburg Country club Tuesday.

The following were tied for second place with net scores of 41: Fred Bryson, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. J. Donald Swape and Mrs. Raymond Sheely. Mrs. Mares Sherman was hostess for the day.

Next Tuesday a kickers' tournament will be held in which each player is permitted to replace three

PAGE FALTERS AGAIN; CARDS TOP PHILLIES

By JACK HAND
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)

What ever happened to Fireman Joe Page of 1949—the greatest relief pitcher ever?

Recent work of the New York Yankees' bullpen artist reminds fans of the Page of 1948—an in-and-out hero who flopped after a glorious pennant year in 1947.

Highest priced of all Yankee pitchers with a $30,000-plus wage, Page failed the world champs yesterday for the second day in a row. With Manager Casey Stengel struggling along on a seven-man staff, Page's trouble is most serious. Last western trip they won nine in a row. Now they've lost the first two.

Bothered by a sinus infection during the long home stand, Page saw little action. He had a week's rest before Stengel tried him in Chicago Tuesday night. Joe didn't have it.

Allie Reynolds was one out away from victory yesterday when the White Sox caught up with him. With two gone in the ninth and New York leading, 2-1, a single and walk by Pinch Hitters Floyd Baker and Luke Appling and a single by Chico Carrasquel tied the score.

Stengel took the ball from Allie and waved in Page. Joe's third pitch to Dave Philley sailed into the lower left field seats for a three-run homer and the ball game, 5-2.

Records Compared
 Last season Page started from the bullpen 60 times. The Yanks won 42, lost 17 and tied one of those games. So far in 19 appearances by Page, New York has won 11 and lost eight.

Especially alarming to Stengel is Page's new habit of throwing the home run ball. Five batters hit homers off him so far. Only seven did the trick all last season.

Page's failure cost the Yanks a chance to gain on Detroit. Instead the Tigers clung to their half game lead despite an 8-2 defeat by Philadelphia.

Lou Brissie, whose only previous win came May 27 when he stopped a New York nine-game win streak, turned in a neat six-hit job against the league leaders.

The Athletics handed Dizzy Trout his first loss, with Elmer Valo and Eddie Joost hitting home runs. Slender consolation for the Tigers was the feat of Hoot Evers extending his consecutive game hitting streak to 19.

Five homers featured the night game between Cleveland and Boston, won by the Indians, 7-3. Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Lou Bourdeau were the long distance clouters for Cleveland. Vern Stephens and Ted Williams for the Red Sox. Williams collected No. 19 off Mike Garcia in the third with one on.

Kinder Blasted Again
 Ellis Kinder continued to throw that gopher ball up to the plate, yielding all three Cleveland homers. Bourdeau's was his first of the season.

Conrad Marrero held St. Louis to four hits as Washington thrust the Browns into the cellar with a 4-1 victory. The Senators had lost seven straight to St. Louis.

National league action consisted of one night game. Rain washed out the rest of the schedule.

The onrushing St. Louis Cardinals racked up their seventh straight win behind Max Lanier. The chunky southpaw let down the Phillies with six hits, 4-2, as St. Louis stretched its lead to 3½ games over idle Brooklyn.

Two runs in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie, handing Ken Heintzelman his fifth loss. Enos Slaughter singled but was forced at second. Marty Marion tripled to break the tie and Del Rice drove in home as Lanier, unbeaten since May 17, won his fourth straight.

Eastern League
 (By The Associated Press)
 The Eastern League is billing four doubleheaders tonight.

Two doubleheaders and a single-ton were washed out last night.

In the only game played, the Elmira Pioneers squeaked past the Hartford Chiefs, 2-1, when Fred Leonard singled in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to crack a 1-1 deadlock.

Dick Haviland scored both Elmira runs, and was driven home each time by Leonard.

The Utica-at-Wilkes-Barre and Albany-at-Wilkes-Barre double-headers were rained out. The Binghamton at Scranton game was postponed because of wet grounds.

A steal of home by Howard in the last half of the seventh inning gave Don Emert's Gettysburg team a 9-8 decision over Woodsboro here Wednesday evening in a Mason-Dixon Junior Baseball league game.

After Woodsboro had secured a 5-2 lead at the end of the fourth inning, Gettysburg tabbed four runs in the fifth and added two in the sixth only to have the Marylanders come up with three runs in the seventh to knot the score.

Six runs in the second inning enabled the Hanover Legion to nip Littlestown 9-7 on the latter's field. Littlestown outlived its opponents, 12-8, with Kehl collecting three singles.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

General Hines Commencement

Speaker: "The true measure of a man's success is the service he renders, not the pay he demands for it," Major General Frank T. Hines, director of the United States Veterans Bureau, Washington, D. C., said in an address to the graduating class of Gettysburg college at the ninety-eighth commencement exercises at the Majestic theatre Monday morning. Diplomas were awarded to 130 seniors.

At the conclusion of the address, Miss Helen Gathke, valedictorian of Gettysburg, gave the students' address. The exercises were without a salutation.

Dr. Stamm Sails on European Trip: Dr. Raymond T. Stamm will sail from New York city Tuesday for a three-months' tour of Europe. During his stay abroad Dr. Stamm will spend four weeks in the Holy Land and will witness the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

John J. Clutz Wed to Daughter of N. Y. Sculptor: Miss Agnes Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trygve Hammer, of Douglass, Long Island, and John Jacob Clutz, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clutz, Broadway, were married in the garden of the bride's home on Friday. The Rev. Mr. Riley, Episcopal rector of Long Island, officiated. Mrs. Signa Tension, of Havana, Cuba, was matron of honor, and Paul Clutz was best man.

Scharf Named New Treasurer: Henry M. Scharf was elected treasurer of Pennsylvania Charter, No. 41, Hotel Greeters of America, at the annual meeting in Pittsburgh Friday evening.

Schmeling Wins by Foul: New York, June 13.—Another heavy-weight farce was perpetrated on some 70,000 ring devotees at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night when Max Schmeling, German ace, won on a foul from Jack Sharkey, stormy petrel of boxing, with eight seconds of the fourth round remaining.

As the New York Boxing Commission and the National Boxing Association have announced that they would confer the world's heavy-weight championship on the winner, Schmeling tonight wears the mantle of purple, discarded by Gene Tunney two years ago.

Dr. Wickerham Is Named Head of Local Lions: Dr. R. D. Wickerham was elected president of the Gettysburg Lions club at a meeting at the Graeffenburg inn Thursday night.

Roy Wentz was selected to be first vice president for the coming year; C. Ross Shuman, second vice president, and Dr. W. E. Tilberg, third vice president.

G. W. Lefer was elected secretary and Lemoy Dougherty, treasurer. Arthur Henderson was named last writer, and Ted Balmer, lion tamer. The two new directors elected were Edgar Deardorff and Henry Bream.

Couple Wed 25 Years; Honored: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright were the honor guests Monday evening when the members of the L.L.L. club with their husbands and several additional guests gathered at their home in Biglerville to help celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rice, who were observing their fifteenth wedding anniversary, were also honor guests at the affair.

Esther Zepp Is Bride Tuesday: A pretty wedding ceremony was held at "The Pines" church on Tuesday evening when Robert Coble, of Mercersburg, and Miss Esther Zepp, of Gettysburg, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. Harold Little, assisted by the Rev. Oliver D. Coble, of Bendersville.

The wedding party consisted of eight besides the bride and groom: Herbert Zepp, best man; Pearl Groden, bridesmaid; Norman Zepp, ring bearer; Miss Miriam Zepp and Miss Lydia Zepp, flower girls; Joel

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CAMERA FAN

I cannot understand how anyone can leave for a vacation without a camera. You can write most interestingly about any trip you may take, but to return with a pictured story of that trip will enable you to live it over time and again, in realistic fashion.

Never has there been so much interest in owning a camera and learning all the many things that can be accomplished with it. A good camera these days can be purchased for a very small sum, and as you learn the basic principles you will want a better one—growing with the camera as you become more experienced.

For more than half my lifetime I have owned one or more cameras, and the happiness I have gained thereby cannot be adequately expressed in words. Now that color films have been wonderfully perfected, there is an added joy to the taking of pictures. The study of flowers, birds, and animals grows in intensity as one hunts with his camera.

Picture taking makes one observant, teaching composition, and odd effects, indoor as well as outdoor. Some of the most wonderful pictures of bird and animal life have come about with the camera. It often takes hours of patience and study to get the results desired, but they come in time. Mistakes constantly teach.

Posed pictures are far less interesting than those taken when the objects are unaware of the process. Increasingly, movie cameras are becoming the vogue, for there is interest in action and in color effects. Your friends can thus be enabled to see exactly what you saw. That is why it is important for you to see good views and study them over before taking.

We never realized how human the faces of animals are, as well as babies, until the recent flood of pictures of them in our newspapers. With one's own camera we can make our own interpretations, and get personal fun as well. Don't leave for that vacation, or trip abroad, without a camera! You'll regret it if you forget to do so.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Back to Old Books."

THE SUBVERSIVE

He talks with lies upon his lips

And cunning in his mind.

Pretense is at his finger tips.

His coat for theft designed.

He has been tutored to betray,

Deception to employ.

To work in every traitorous way

Man's freedom to destroy.

As loyal man he will appear

Well garbed and fair to see,

But since he has no God to fear

A dangerous man is he.

Be watchful for him, and beware

His subtle, whispered lies,

For he's the foe of all that's fair

And everything we prize.

Littlestown

ADVANCE PLANS FOR CARNIVAL

Carnival plans were advanced at a special meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game association Wednesday evening at the club house in Germany township, which was attended by approximately 75 members. Harold Sparver and W. E. Stites, co-chairmen of the general committee, said that plans are well underway and they requested all of the membership to turn out at the playground on Monday at 6:30 p.m. to assist in erecting the stands. In case of rain on Monday night, this work will be done on Tuesday night. The carnival will be held June 22, 23 and 24.

This meeting was in charge of the president, Dr. Joseph R. Riden. Special awards of the evening went to James U. Bowers and Stanley Weikert. Refreshments were served to the group by a committee consisting of Kenneth Olinger, Ray Harner and Raymond Reed. The date and place of the next meeting will be announced later when the refreshment committee will consist of James U. Bowers, William Wherley and Millard Basehor.

Ladies Aid Meets

Thirty-eight members were present Wednesday night for the monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid society of St. Luke's church, White Hall, which was held in the social hall. Scripture was read by Myrtle Good and prayer was offered by Mrs. Roscoe Klinefelter. Mrs. John H. Hartlaub, president, was in charge of the meeting. Miss Betty Hartlaub presented a secretary's report and Miss Ruth Hofe, the treasurer's report. The society thanked Mr. and Mrs. Claude Flickinger for an oil stove which they donated to the society. Mrs. Charles Bupp and Mrs. Fred Hartlaub thanked the society for the flowers and cards sent them during their illness.

Plans were discussed for the strawberry and ice cream festival which they will hold in the social hall on Friday evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Two games were conducted by Mrs. Robert Gladhill. The winners were Mrs. John Junior Bittle, Mrs. Roscoe Klinefelter and Frances Rucker. Other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clarence Fuss and Mrs. D. C. Shannebrook. A hat sale will be held in connection with the next meeting to be held in the social hall on Wednesday, July 12. Entertainment at the next meeting will be in charge of Miss Ruth Hofe, chairman; Mrs. Charles Ginter, Mrs. Betty and Eileen Hartlaub, Mrs. John H. Hartlaub, Mrs. Fred Hartlaub, Mrs. Glenn Hofe and Mrs. Abram Hofe.

Firemen To Meet

There will be a special meeting of the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the fire hall for the purpose of acting on by-laws. The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, left on Wednesday afternoon for Fort Meade, Md., where he is taking a two-weeks military course. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds was a chaplain in the south Pacific during World War II.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival on the lawn in the rear of the post home, West King street, Saturday beginning at 4 p.m. Chicken corn soup and sandwiches will also be on sale. In case of rain, the festival will be held in the storeroom of J. Arthur Boyd, East King street.

Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock in the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, for Wilson J. Bair, Hanover, a native of Adams county, who died suddenly at his home Monday evening. He was a life-long member of Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, and was completing his 12th year as an elder of the church. Services were in charge of his pastor, the Rev. John C. Brumback, with the intervention in the Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. Members of the consistory of Christ Reformed church served as pallbearers. They were: Elders Isiah J. Pory and Richard M. Withers, and Deacons Amos Carbaugh, John N. Sell, Harold E. Shoemaker and Bernard Dutterer.

Girl Scouts Meet

Troop No. 13, Littlestown Girl Scouts, Mrs. Clyde Crouse, leader, held a regular meeting on Wednesday evening in the fire hall. A business session was conducted by Patricia Long, president. The following songs were dramatized: "Little One-Eye," Louise Kerns and Mary Lou King, and "Chocolate Ice Cream Cone," Audrey Brumback and Joan Koonz. Refreshments were served to the group by Audrey Brumback, Joan Koonz and Mary Lou King. Next week the meeting will be in the fire hall on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. A refreshment committee was also appointed for the meeting on June 28, which consists of Patricia Long, Louise Kerns and Suzanne Harner.

Harry and Sonny's softball team defeated the Rookies on Wednesday evening by a score of 9 to 3. After the regular contest, these teams played an exhibition game when

On Friday six Gettysburg fishermen returned from Crisfield, Maryland, with a catch of 300 fish including fifty trout. In the group were R. W. Wentz, W. Preston Hull, Earl Deatrick, H. H. Thomas, Lloyd C. Keefauver and A. E. Hutchison.

Philadelphia's 2nd Triplets Are Born

Norristown, Pa., June 15 (AP)—

Triplets, the second set in the Philadelphia area within 24 hours, were born here last night and today to Mrs. Charles Testa, 35-year-old wife of a restaurant manager.

The first child, a girl weighing 4 pounds 12 ounces, arrived four minutes before midnight. Her brothers, weighing 5 pounds 10 ounces and 6 pounds, respectively, were born at 12:35 and 12:57 a.m. Dr. James Watson, the attending physician at Montgomery hospital, said the expected multiple birth had been disclosed several months ago by X-rays. He said the delivery was normal, and the mother and children "fine." Mr. and Mrs. Testa have three other children, sons aged 13 and two, and a daughter, five.

At Philadelphia's Metropolitan hospital Mrs. James Dundon and the two daughters and son born to her yesterday were reported "doing fine."

EDITOR DENIES SALE OF STOCK

Philadelphia, June 15 (AP)—A former treasurer of the Norristown Times Herald says never while he was an officer did the newspaper company sell stock to Frederick S. Fox.

Walter A. Wilson, whom Fox succeeded as treasurer, testified yesterday at the 75-year old defendant's trial on charges of helping the paper's owner and publisher, Ralph Beaver Strassburger, in an attempt to "defeat and evade the internal revenue laws."

The government contends the stock sale was faked in 1941 to evade income taxes.

Wilson, who was vice president, general manager and editor as well as treasurer at the time, said the stock transaction never appeared on the company's books, although it allegedly occurred a month before he left the paper.

And it never was the subject of a resolution at any meeting of the board of directors, the witness added. Wilson, Fox and Strassburger, now in France, comprised the board. Wilson's testimony supported the government's contention that Fox never acquired the stock, but merely allowed himself to be used in a paper transaction intended to show a loss for income tax purposes.

Bonneauville

Bonneauville—Ten pupils from St. Joseph's parochial school received diplomas on Sunday afternoon at graduation exercises held in St. Joseph's church at 3:30 o'clock. Those in the class were: Audrey Orndorff, Nadine Orndorff, Frances Sneeringer, Joanne Keller, June Sanders, Catherine Gebhart, Arnela Martin, William Weaver, Fred Kuhn and Cyril McMaster, Jr. Audrey Orndorff received the award for general excellence; Nadine Orndorff, for the highest average in history.

The banns of marriage were published Sunday in St. Joseph's church between Loretta Storm and Raymond Smith, of Bonneauville and also between Joyce Orndorff, of Bonneauville, and Earl Noel, of Sacred Heart parish, Conewago.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Evans Lombe and son, Spencer, of Coffeyville, Kan., and Mrs. Earl Goodner, of Dallas, Texas, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gebhart and family, of York, visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gebhart, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clabaugh and son, Joseph, left Monday morning on a week's motor trip to Illinois where they will visit the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Regis Clabaugh.

Joseph Storm, a student in St. Mary's seminary, Baltimore, arrived here Tuesday to spend his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders and children, Wanda, Dale and Wayne, spent Tuesday in Harrisburg.

Robert Chrismer, who just completed the school year at Penn State Forestry school, Mont Alto, is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gebhart and will leave Saturday.

The Rookies defeated Harry and Sonny's by a score of 5 to 4.

Mrs. Harry W. Badders, teacher, Lumber street, was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Ever-Willington Sunday school class of St. John's Lutheran church on Monday evening. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Badders. Mrs. Donald Reaver, president, presided. It was planned to have a food sale Friday, July 14, at 4 p.m. at Boyd's. The class decided to contribute to the organ and improvement fund of the church. It was decided to hold the next meeting in the form of an outing at the cottage of Mrs. Paul Hollinger, Marsh Creek Heights on July 11. Mrs. Hollinger will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Thomas and Mrs. Dale Stary.

The birthdays of Mrs. Noah Strevig, Mrs. Harold Rife, Mrs. Francis Mummet, Mrs. Evelyn Spangler and Mrs. Donald Reaver were celebrated. Each received a gift from every member of the class. Contests of the evening were won by Mrs. Fred Leister and Mrs. Noah Strevig. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and strawberries were served by the hostess.

WATKINS KEEPS SENATE UP TO THE RULE BOOK

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Charles L. Watkins is a thin, mild man who holds a job in which he's supposed to have the impartiality of Solomon. He must be doing all right because he had his job a long time in a place where tempers are short and suspicions sharp.

Watkins, who is 70, is the Senate parliamentarian. In fact, he's the only full time parliamentarian the Senate ever had.

In this job he's supposed to walk down the middle, looking neither at the Democrats nor Republicans, while unscrambling the senators from their own red tape, of which there is plenty.

Still Has 40 Rules

Until 1883 the Senate had 44 rules. In that year, in what must have been an economy wave, the Senate reduced its rules from 44 to 40. It still has the same 40 and it does its business according to those rules.

Any time a senator acts contrary to what another senator thinks one of the 40 rules means, his hand is called.

And, since Democrats and Republicans are always pulling the rule book on one another, there's work for Watkins. In short, he's supposed to help straighten them out on what the rules mean. At this point many of you're thinking: "Well, if there are only 40 rules, don't all the senators know them all by heart? Why do they need Watkins?"

In the first place, the 40 rules cover about 50 pages in a booklet called the "Senate Manual."

Affected By Precedent

It's safe to say no senator knows the 40 rules by heart. Not even Watkins, who knows them inside out, can recite them word for word.

Further, there's a little thing, but a very important one, called "precedent," which concerns what previous Senates did about a certain rule. Although all 40 rules have remained in force, 40 rules have remained the various Senates have modified most of them by deciding a rule really meant this or really meant that.

So, when the present Senate gets into a dispute about a rule, if it knows the precedents on that rule it can follow them. Or it can shoot off in another direction, setting a new precedent.

Maybe here you say: "But can't the senators keep a copy of the rules beside them, plus a copy of the precedents?"

Will Print Precedents

The trouble is: those precedents never have been gathered together except in Watkins' head and his own typewritten notes. He has gone back to 1883 in the Congressional Record—the daily journal of the Senate's doings—and read every page of every day the Senate has been in session since that time.

He had to do it that way because every dispute about a rule was buried between tons of oratory, copies of bills, and the other stuff that gets printed daily in the journal.

Watkins took full notes on every dispute and now has 10 fat volumes of them in his office. Even so, his records go only from 1883 to 1932. He hopes to bring the precedents up to date. Then, he expects the Senate will have this whole history of precedents printed by the government printer for the use of future Senates.

Six To Get Hearings In $50,000 Thefts

Shamokin, Pa., June 15 (AP)—A hearing was scheduled here today on burglary charges against six Northumberland county men accused of netting more than $50,000 in a series of robberies.

State police said the arrest of the six men yesterday solved some 40 robberies staged in Dauphin, Lebanon, Northumberland, Columbia, Berks, Snyder, Mifflin, Schuylkill, Union, Centre, Lycoming and Luzerne counties.

Those arrested were George Garancosky, Sr., 45, his two sons, George, Jr., 25, and Andrew, 22; Joseph E. Kaseman, 37, and his brother, Robert L., 26, and Elmer Kline, 25, all of the Shamokin area.

urday for the Poconos, where he will be employed for the summer.

The NCCW met Monday evening in St. Joseph's hall, Mrs. Evelyn Chrismer presided. After a short business meeting the ten eighth grade graduates and their mothers were entertained with a play presented by the youth council. Prizes were awarded and refreshments were served.

Meteorites are said to have been man's first source of iron.

CHARLES L. HALL, MISS MYERS WED

Miss Ruth Esther Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Myers, Littlestown R. 1, became the bride of Charles Lewis Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hall, North Queen street, on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of the church and pastor of the bride, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with cut spring flowers.

Mrs. Luther Myers, church organist, gave a 15-minute recital preceding the ceremony and played the traditional wedding marches as a processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street length dress with white accessories and carried a white Bible. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Myers, Littlestown R. 1, who wore a blue street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Robert Hall, a brother of the groom, was the best man.

PEACE TREATY WITH JAPS IS 'RED HOT' ISSUE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

U. S. Secretary of Defense Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, are due to arrive in Tokyo in a few days for a conference with General Douglas MacArthur, and the red-hot question of an early Japanese peace treaty is expected to feature the discussions.

One uses the term "red-hot" adversely America's dominating influence in this island empire, and Washington's obvious determination to continue protection of U. S. interests, is a circumstance which has been causing bitterness in Soviet quarters.

Early Treaty Essential

The reason, of course, is that upon is a key position in the Far East, both militarily and economically. At this writing there is small chance indeed that any treaty can be drawn up to suit both America and Russia. And the answer to that would seem to be that the U. S. A., and the other western allies will have to go ahead on their own.

MacArthur has been insisting that an early treaty is essential. Not only is it necessary for the solving of economic problems, but the general maintains that military occupation loses its effectiveness in three to five years. This being so, American occupation is nearing the end of its usefulness.

That doesn't mean MacArthur proposes the complete withdrawal of American troops. On the contrary it is understood he believes that the military defense of Japan calls for the presence of U. S. forces, and that they also are necessary to prevent the Communists from seizing power.

Jan Bases Vital

Moreover, MacArthur and many other American military experts maintain that Japanese bases are vital for the outer ring of defenses of the United States. This is a thesis which is giving rise to considerable argument pro and con, some experts maintaining that the Philippines provide sufficient protection.

In this connection I believe it was General George Marshall, former U. S. chief of staff and later secretary of state, who once remarked that under modern conditions peak-war could be maintained in only five areas, and Japan was one of these. The others were the United States, Britain, Russia and Germany. This estimate, of course, took into account industrial facilities and manpower, among other things.

Word from Tokyo is that the Japanese government is willing to have American troops stay on after the projected treaty is signed. Moreover, informed sources in the Japanese capital say the government would also agree to maintain bases required by American forces.

PREFAB FIRM TO BE PROBED

Columbus, Ohio, June 15 (AP)—A U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals probably will be called upon within 48 hours to untangle a legal snarl in the affairs of the Lustron corporation, big prefab house firm.

This was the prediction of attaches at the U. S. Circuit court here after these swift developments yesterday.

1. U. S. District Judge Mel G. Underwood said either the Justice Department would investigate operations of the $37,500,000 corporation or he would call a grand jury to do it.

2. The Reconstruction Finance corporation, Chief Lustron creditor, took possession of the huge plant after Judge Underwood approved its sale to RFC for $6,000,000. The RFC purchase was to protect its huge investment in Lustron. The firm was in default on $36,500,000 in RFC loans.

3. Twenty minutes after RFC took possession, U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan in Chicago signed an injunction barring the RFC from taking possession of the Lustron plant.

Judge Sullivan acted at the behest of three Lustron dealers who had filed petitions of involuntary bankruptcy against Lustron.

Just which court has jurisdiction in the situation, none could say. It was the latter two developments which led to predictions an Appeals Court would step in. The Lustron plant is in Columbus, but Lustron is an Illinois corporation.

Bees Driving Out Three Families

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—Three families living in one house are no match for a swarm of bees which is gradually driving the human beings out.

Frank Nemeth says weight of filled honeycombs has cracked a ceiling. Honey drips from the cracks. Nobody tries to grab the honey, though. Nemeth has been stung at least 20 times and other occupants less frequently.

Yes, he has tried to oust them. Recommended poison sprays only stain the bees, he says. For three-hour periods on three consecutive days, he piped auto exhaust fumes into the walk. A lot of bees died, but replacements moved up fast.

Tragedy Sweeps Happy Family; Fire Leaves 5 Members Dead

Oakland, Md., June 15 (AP)—There was cheer a-plenty in the little mountain cabin of Homer Ash. The waiting was just about over. Mrs. Ash was ready to go to the hospital to have her sixth child.

There was the usual joking and speculation as to whether it would be a boy or a girl among the Ash family and Ash's sister, Mrs. Emerson Knox, and her 12-year-old daughter Wanda Lee, who had come over to help with the wash.

Then—

State's Egg Yield Near Record Level

Harrisburg, June 15 (AP)—Pennsylvania's egg production reached record proportions for the month during May despite a heavy reduction in the number of layers.

The state Agriculture Department reported a total of 318,000,000 eggs produced in May, highest on record.

Due to higher feed costs and lower prices for eggs and poultry meat, flock reductions totaled 1,336,000. The average number of layers was 17,616,000, but this still was a record for May.

Pennsylvania egg production for the first five months of 1950 totaled 1,575,000,000 as against 1,491,000,000 for the same period last year, indicating a new all-time record might be established for the year, observers said.

As Mrs. Knox prepared to start the gasoline-powered washing machine, a terrific explosion enveloped the group.

The children screamed, choked with pain and fright. Ash, knocked to the floor by the blast, saw gasoline-fed spreading over the floor and up the walls.

Though badly burned, he managed to half-drag, half-carry his wife, his sister and the children from the blazing room.

Five-year-old Tommy was dead. So was two-year-old Peggy. And Wanda Lee.

His wife, ready for childbirth, was severely burned. His sister moaned in her scorched clothing.

Somehow, he got out the car and headed them for the hospital as the flames consumed the house.

His child arrived a few minutes after they checked in. It was dead. Last night, after long, agonizing hours, Mrs. Ash died.

NEW WAGE DEMANDS

New York, June 15 (AP)—The United Electrical Workers (Ind.) has asked the General Electric company for a ten-cent hourly wage increase, $125 a month pensions and shorter working hours. The union, expelled from the CIO on the ground it was Communist-controlled, represents 37,000 GE workers in 40 plants. The company and union started contract talks Tuesday.

SYNTHETIC OILS MAY BE USED IN AUTOMOBILES

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—If the trend toward lighter lubricants for automobile engines continues, motorists of the future may be buying synthetic oil, a Penn State physicist and petroleum expert indicated today.

The possibility that natural mineral oils eventually may not meet specifications of auto manufacturers was outlined in a talk before the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association by Dr. Fenske of Penn State petroleum refining laboratory.

Said Dr. Fenske: "With more power being generated in an engine of given size and weight and with light oils being prescribed by engine manufacturers to an increasing degree, the limit can be reached regarding lubrication with conventional mineral oils."

Aids Secondary Recovery

Research has produced a number of solutions, Dr. Fenske continued. One is the use of certain types of synthetic oils, especially those composed of selected esters.

The physicist said a more practical

Say Buying Power Can Be Doubled

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Three high-ranking senators agreed today with the Committee for Economic Development (CED) that the buying power of the average American worker can be doubled in the next 30 years.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of the joint committee on and economical approach would be the use of anti-wear agents for mineral oils. He added: "Present indications are that anti-wear agents will permit high quality mineral oils, such as the Pennsylvania types, to dominate the internal combustion engine lubricant field for many years ahead."

Another speaker at the association's 27th annual meeting outlined current research on secondary recovery methods.

He was H. G. Botset, professor of petroleum engineering at the University of Pittsburgh and the association's technical advisor on its research program.

Botset said the Pennsylvania grade's study project—being conducted in the association's laboratory at Bradford, Pa.—has "greatly benefited the secondary recovery operations x x x of the entire country."

the economic report, said prospects for reaching the objective are "more than good." Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Flanders (R-Vt.) were more cautious.

The CED is a businessman's planning agency with which Flanders formerly was affiliated. It issued its report on future income possibilities yesterday.

"The increase in real wages and standard of living proposed by CED is entirely within the range of possibility," Taft said, "but the policies which they propose to accomplish these purposes are so general they will not be very helpful to anyone who has to help run the government."

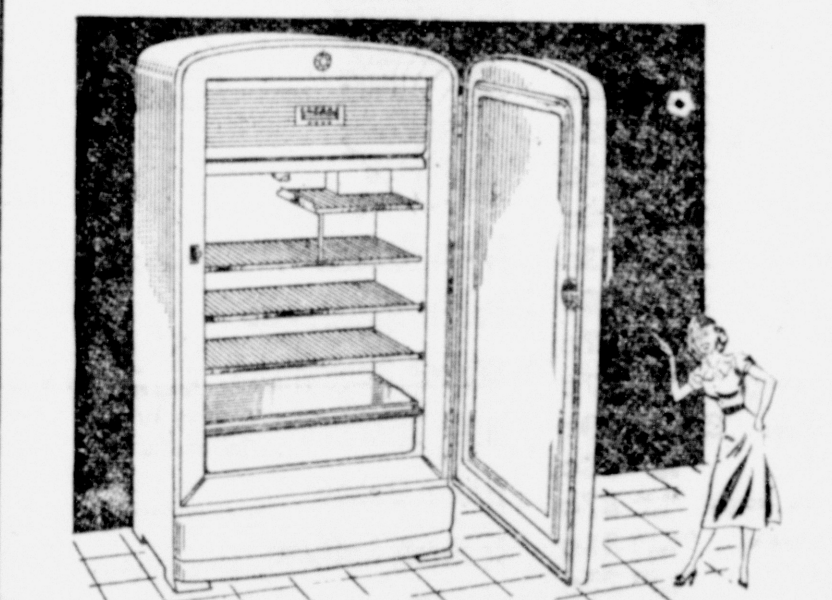

The life of galvanized was used as water fountains for chickens or small animals may be prolonged by painting the outside and putting a coat of paraffin inside.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

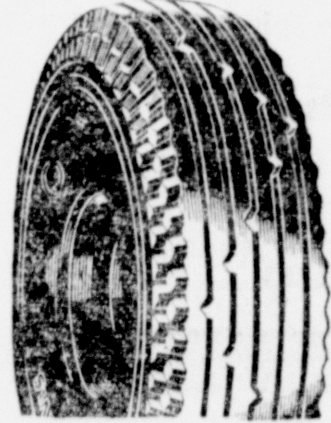

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

SAYS REDS MAY HAVE 6 BOMBS

New York, June 15 (AP)—Reports that Russia may have six atom bombs on hand by next fall, and soon may be producing them at the rate of 25 a year, were quoted by a military expert yesterday.

The expert, Navy Commander William T. Greenhalgh, quoted an unidentified authority in giving his figures before 350 selected civilians and reserve officers at a session of

HOUSEWIVES TO TAKE HAND IN DAIRY STRIKE

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—An agreement reached with one small firm today provided the only break thus far in the week-old strike of 3,200 dairy workers in Pittsburgh and six western Pennsylvania counties.

There were no signs of an industry-wide peace as consumers continued either to drive to farms to buy their milk or go without.

A hastily-organized band of housewives—led by Mrs. Nelson Bennett, mother of two—demanded the walk-out be ended. Both union and company officials agreed to give the women a hearing before resuming bargaining negotiations.

Meanwhile, in the nation's capital settlement of the six-day-old Washington milk strike hinged on the question of whether dairies should shut down on Sundays.

Seek Shorter Hours, Same Pay
The striking union members are seeking a 40-hour rather than 48-hour work week with no cut in take home pay. The nine struck dairies agreed to shorter hours but insisted the milk plants be closed on Sundays.

The union balked on the grounds the Sunday layoff would call for delivery of a three-day supply of milk which might result in a loss of customers.

On the Pittsburgh strike front, a two-hour negotiating session broke up without agreement last night and another was set for today (10 a.m. EST).

The union didn't comment but an industry spokesman said: "We don't seem to be near agreement at all."

One Contract Signed
Harry A. Tavis, president of AFL Local 235, Milk and Ice Cream Salesmen and Dairy Employees, said he has signed a contract with the D. and M. dairy, Alfred Rombach, co-owner with Steve Devaty, said the plant—employing ten workers—would start processing milk "some time this morning."

The union is asking the other 67 members of the greater Pittsburgh Milk Dealers association to agree to the same terms as D. and M. These include:

A 40-hour week with 48 hours pay for inside workers, restoration of a two-cents-a-bottle cut drivers suffered several months ago, and a 35 per cent increase to $13.50 in the daily minimum for drivers.

Need Doctor's Certificate
The dairies have agreed to restore the two cents. Have offered a $11 daily minimum and 48 hours pay for 44 hours work.

While the strike went on emergency deliveries of milk continued in the greater Pittsburgh area and the six other western Pennsylvania counties hit by the strike.

All persons getting milk must have physicians' certificates. The milk is delivered by union drivers from three dairies permitted to operate.

Last night the union sought to have five more dairies opened. A spokesman claimed the present delivery system is on the verge of a breakdown because thousands of additional requests are being received for milk. The industry refused because "the union leaders suggest that persons go to the dairies in person with either a certificate or a babe in arms x x x."

Pittsburgh City Employees Quizzed
Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—City council called more municipal employees to the stand today to testify on whether they ever worked on city officials' homes while being paid by the city.

Several payrolls testified yesterday they never worked on the Butler county homes of Council President Thomas E. Kilgallen or Howard Gross, boss of the city's skilled laborers.

Mrs. Josephine Dilei, widow of a city stone mason, has charged in a court suit that her husband, Salvatore, was killed in a truck accident enroute to Gross property. Council is investigating the charges.

Gross testified late yesterday he never used city workmen on city time at his country home. Kilgallen also has denied the charges. The council president charges Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for Mrs. Dilei, is motivated by political objectives in pressing her case.

TRUMAN SEES MARINE SHOW AT QUANTICO

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Quantico, Va., June 15 (AP)—President Truman came to this Marine Corps base today to watch the Marines show off their modern fighting power.

A 21-gun salute greeted the President as he stepped ashore from the Presidential yacht Williamsburg which brought him down the Potomac river from Washington.

The Marine band played "The Star Spangled Banner." Then the President reviewed a blue-clad honor guard and left for the combat training ranges to witness picked units.

Marines Put On Show
1. Assault a simulated enemy fortified position, demonstrating how the "Devil Dogs" reduce and capture a beach studded with concrete pillboxes, utilizing a large assortment of weapons from flame throwers to tanks and aircraft.

2. Demonstrate recently-developed helicopter technique. This included simulated carrier take-offs with men and equipment to be landed subsequently in "combat zones." It involved use of helicopters to put down the troops and move off again within 20 minutes.

During the two demonstrations, Marine Corps combat aircraft were ordered to furnish close air support, in the form of pinpoint dive bombing, rocket runs, strafing and fire bombing.

The demonstrations drew not only the President and his party but members of Congress and high ranking defense officials headed by Deputy Secretary of Defense Earl, Secretary of the Navy Matthews, General J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief-of-Staff, General Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief, and Admiral Forrest B. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations.

also has denied the charges. The council president charges Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for Mrs. Dilei, is motivated by political objectives in pressing her case.

COMMUNITY HAS 110 CHILDREN IN BIBLE SCHOOL

The 1950 Emmitsburg Community Vacation Church school, which is meeting in the public school building, opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock with an enrollment of 110 children and 20 teachers and helpers. The teachers are: Rev. Adam Grim, Mrs. Russell Andrews, Mary Long, Louis Hewitt, Sue Hays, Helen Bushman, Robert Simpson, Carrie Hahn, Sue Stinson, Mrs. Charles Fuss, Lois Keilholz, Mary Piery, Shirley Jones, Mrs. John McGoughlin, Marjorie Criste and Sandra Baumgardner.

The directors of music are: Mrs. Adam Grim and Robert Simpson. The pianist is Carolyn McDonnell. The officers are: Rev. Philip Bower, dean; Rev. Edmund Walker and Rev. Charles Owen, devotional leaders; Mrs. Lewis Ball, secretary; Mrs. John White, treasurer.

The course being used in the school is the new 1950 vacation church school service, published by the United Lutheran Church in America. The school is held daily except Saturday for two weeks from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

To Close June 23

The daily program schedule is as follows: Devotions 9 a.m.; class work at 9:30; recreation, 10:15; assembly song service, 10:40; class work, 11 to 11:30.

There will be a public closing service held in the high school auditorium Friday night, June 23, at 8 p.m.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Wivell, Tuesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rosensteel of Burlington, Ill., Mrs. Marion Hall of New Castle, Pa., Mrs. Mary G. Guise, Mrs. Louise Jacobs and C. R. Hoke, all of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and children, Eugene, Thomas, Patricia, Dickey, Joan and Sammy, accompanied their son, Charles, to his home in Hagerstown on Monday evening.

Mrs. Frank Snyder and son, Frankie, of Fairfield, visited Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Wivell. Bernard Wivell returned with his aunt to spend several days.

Entre Nous met on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Zacharias.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Graham and Mrs. Roy Ramsburg visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Tuesday evening.

FOOD BASKETS AWARDED

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

New Oxford

New Oxford—The Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church conducted its annual Communion breakfast after the 7:30 mass on Sunday morning at which the men received Holy Communion in a body. The breakfast was served in the parochial hall with more than 120 members present this year.

Mrs. Kathryn W. Donohue, teacher of Clear View school, near town, has dismissed her classes for the summer vacation. She reports that of her pupils Myrna Lee Bream and Gerald Beamer were perfect in attendance throughout the school year, and that these were present every day at the last school month: Larry Beaver, Donald Bowser, Eugene Young, Gladys Noel, Sally Noel, Kenneth Bream, William Noel, Sandra Bechtel, Rosalee Payne, Jean Rummel, Larry Gorman, Ronald Millhimes, Gladys Beaver, Ellen Starnier, Peggy Ann Yingling and the two students whose yearly attendance was perfect.

According to the annual custom of the First Lutheran Church school, the entire offering in the church school on Sunday was given to the Tressler Lutheran Orphanage, Loyalville, as a part of the Children's Day observance which was conducted that day with a program by Sunday school youngsters. Also given to the Loyalville home was any "loose" offering received at the worship service on Sunday. The superintendent is Charles H. Wolf and the pastor is the Rev. George E. Sheffer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grogg, Newport, who has been in poor health for a time and who cannot walk without assistance, is now a resident of the Kuhn Convalescent home, east of town.

Mrs. C. Clark Brown is spending a time with her daughter, Mrs. Herschel Shortridge, and family, near Philadelphia. Mrs. Shortridge was formerly Miss Freda Brown of here. Mrs. Brown also plans to visit a sister-in-law, Mrs. Marjorie Brown Fox, Lavallette, N. J., before returning home. Mrs. Fox is a frequent visitor to this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. O'Brien observed their 20th wedding anniversary during the past week. Mr. O'Brien, who conducts a dairy business here, and his wife, formerly Miss Gertrude Horwedel, near Conewago Chapel, are the parents of seven children.

Mrs. Richard J. Brendle was hostess at her home Tuesday evening to a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Lutheran church. Mrs. Merrill A. Yohe assisted the hostess in presenting the lesson study.

EQUALITY MAY BE DIFFICULT TO FIND IN SOUTH

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 15 (AP)—What is equal? Finding the answer to that may not be easy for the southern states.

Still, they'll have to find the answer in order to give Negroes higher education opportunities equal to those of whites in their states.

The U.S. Supreme Court last week made it unmistakably clear that Negroes must get such equality.

If the southern states produce what they say is the answer, the Supreme Court is always in the position of having final say on whether it is or not. Negroes can always appeal to the court for decision.

Agreed With Negro

A Texas Negro wanted to get into the University of Texas law school which was for whites only. He was turned down because he was a Negro.

He fought this in the courts. Finally Texas set up a law school for Negroes. But this particular Negro said "No," he still wanted in at the U. of Texas law school for whites. Why?

Because, he said, the Negro school was inferior to the white one and therefore he was being deprived of an education equal to that which the white students were getting.

The Supreme Court—which repeatedly has ruled in the field of education and other things that Negroes must get equal treatment with whites—agreed with the Negro in this case.

Set Up Two Tests

First, the Supreme Court said the Texas Negro law school lacked the same size faculty, big library, variety of courses and other advantages of the white school.

Then the court added something which can't be measured in buildings and books and money. It said: "What is more important, the U. of Texas school possesses to a far greater degree those qualities which are incapable of objective measurement but which make for greatness in a law school."

"Such qualities, to name but a few, include reputation of the faculty, experience of the administration, position and influence of the alumni, standing in the community, traditions and prestige."

So the court apparently has set up two tests for equality between white and Negro schools: the failities, and the traditions and prestige. Only time and a great many distinguished people can give any school traditions and prestige. A new school, naturally, doesn't have either when it's starting out.

A Question To Consider

If the court is going to consider any new Negro school unequal to its white counterpart because it lacks the latter's "traditions and prestige," then how can a new Negro school ever be considered equal to an old-established white school of high standing?

That's a question for the south to consider before it starts spending money on new schools for Negroes, since setting up separate schools for Negroes in higher education is a costly project.

In recent years southerners have been moving toward the idea of setting up large regional schools for Negroes to give them what white southerners consider equal education.

But there's a possibility the Supreme Court would not accept that idea, if a Negro tried to test it by bringing suit to the high court.

CHERRY SPRAY LETTER ISSUED

Sour cherry spray letter No. 7 was sent out to fruit growers today by County Agents M. T. Hartman, with the purpose to prevent leaf spot, help reduce fruit rots, and to control fruit fly or "cherry maggot."

Growers are advised to begin the spray seven to eight days after the last application and not to allow more than eight days between these sprays.

One and a half pounds of ferbam with wettable sulfur, such as 70 per cent sulfur pastes six pounds or flotation sulfur pastes ten pounds, plus two pounds of lead arsenate to each 100 gallons of spray is recommended.

Grower Has Choice

Growers who do not wish to use ferbam-sulfur and are willing to chance stem end injury to fruit and leaf yellowing may use fixed copper at one-half to three-quarters pounds actual copper (example, two to three pounds of a 26 per cent fixed copper such as Tennessee 26, Copeland or copper hydro, etc.) plus three pounds of fresh spray lime plus two pounds of lead arsenate.

Severe copper injury often occurs where copper is applied to leaves when fresh aphid honeydew is present, or to wet leaves, or where copper follows lime sulfur without an interval of 15 to 18 days, the letter says.

A fine mist is recommended and flowers are advised to cover all leaves and fruits. While fruit fly or maggot is not present in all cherry orchards it is advisable to use lead arsenate in this spray as a matter of protection, Hartman advised.

Cherry leaf spot, he added, is present and increasing in most orchards. The fungus causing leaf spot is active and is a serious threat. Fruit rots are also present and active. Spray protection must be maintained, he warned, if these pests are to be held in check. The next spray will be the pre-harvest.

The National Geographic society says the "agowwe," or "little furred people" reportedly seen from time to time in East Africa, may really be rare monkeys.

Scientists do not altogether discount the possibility that the plant, sloth, generally believed extinct, may still exist in the wilds of South America.

NOMINATED—Stanley Woodward, Chief of Protocol in the State Department, was nominated by President Truman as Ambassador to Canada, succeeding late Laurence C. Steinhardt.

COUNTERFEITING ON UPSWING IN UNITED STATES

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Senate crime investigators studied reports today that counterfeiting and illegal narcotics traffic both are on the upswing in the United States. In testimony released yesterday, federal officials reported that phony money is being turned out faster than at any time in the past ten years, while the drug trade is booming, especially in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

The testimony came from Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman and Commissioner H. J. Anslinger of the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, and was made public by the Senate Appropriations committee. They asked more money for their operations.

Counterfeiting Popular
Baughman said the counterfeiters are specializing in $10 and $20 bills, and that his men are seizing spurious money at the rate of $100,000 a month. More than $500,000 worth was seized in the first five months of this year.

"More and more criminals are turning to counterfeiting," he said, adding that most of them are World War II black marketeers who turned out false OPA stamps. He said their operations are centered mostly in Chicago and New York.

A special Senate Crime Investigating committee headed by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) already has its agents digging into the activities of underworld crime rings dealing in narcotics, counterfeiting, gambling and other rackets.

The Kefauver committee is convinced, from investigations thus far, that there is a link between the big criminal rings. The group is seeking to disclose the interlocking operations.

CERTAIN TOILET PREPARATIONS, JEWELRY & LUGGAGE SUBJECT TO FEDERAL EXCISE TAX.

TO CUT EXCISE TAX AND RAISE INCOME LEVY

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Democratic tax law drafters were reported today, after a surprise secret huddle, to be in virtual agreement on a billion-dollar-plus excise tax cutting bill that could avoid a Presidential veto.

The huddle, understood to have been attended by House ways and means Democrats and Speaker Rayburn, changed the whole outlook for tax legislation—which had been dark for this session.

They made no announcement, but there were indications their minds were about made up to:

1. Ram through a bill slashing excise taxes by $1,100,000,000 on jewelry, furs, luggage, toilet preparations, movie tickets, travel tickets, baby bottle warmers and scores of other items.

Take Care of Veto Threat

2. Put into the bill a hike in the income tax rate for large corporations, perhaps from the present 38 per cent to 41 per cent—to collect about $500,000,000 additional from these corporations annually.

3. Meet a July 1 deadline for House passage of the measure, so that the Senate will have time to act before the present Congress adjourns.

The secret meeting developed the first strong indication that the 25-member ways and means committee will approve a boost in corporation income taxes, to avoid President Truman's threat to veto the bill if it fails to offset the excise cut by larger taxes in other directions.

Favor 3-Point Increase

The President proposed a four-point increase in the corporation tax rate, to pick-up $675,000,000 annually, but the committee Democrats are leaning toward a three-point jump. It is understood also that the committee Democrats are about to accept the administration's proposal for elimination of the present so-called "notch" provision in the corporate tax.

Under present law, the corporate income rate is 21 per cent on the first $5,000; 23 per cent on the next $15,000; 25 per cent on the next $50,000; 33 per cent from $25,000 to $50,000; and 38 per cent on all over $50,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Herr and son, Jeff, have moved from Paradise township to the property at the east end of town which they recently purchased from John Altland. The house was formerly that of Mrs. Benjamin T. Renoll, now of the Brethren Home, Carlisle. Mrs. Herr is the former Miss Alana M. Danner, a daughter of the Rev. J. Monroe Danner.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Gruver had as recent guests at their home Mr. Gruver's relative, Capt. C. Edwin Henise, stationed at Fort Myer, Va., and his wife.

Guests from Harrisburg, Wells-ville, York Springs and this area were entertained at a dinner party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trimmer in celebration of the fourth birthday of their daughter, Mary Alice. A birthday cake adorned with four candles, surrounded by bouquets of mock orange, formed the centerpiece for the party table.

Mrs. Philip W. Hodgson, near Red Run church, remains in poor health, having been taken ill some months ago. Mrs. Hodgson's son, John, and his wife, formerly Miss Julia H. Markel, are now residing in a new house on "Lincoln Heights," a development east of Abbotstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Markel are residing with them until their new home at the other end of Abbotstown is completed.

Marie Loper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Loper, R. 2, a student in the New Oxford public schools, has been engaged since school closed as an assistant to the teachers of the Daily Vacation Bible school of New Oxford, being conducted at the Reformed church there for two weeks.

Smith Brothers, Natives Of McSherrystown, Making Good In City Of Brotherly Love

The "Retailing Daily," a trade publication, contains a feature story in a recent edition on Joe and Jed Smith, two McSherrystown young men who have made exceptional progress in the barbering and home furnishings field in Philadelphia. The article was written by Bob Johnson.

The Smiths, brothers of Mrs. Ralph Menchey, Gettysburg R. 3, are the sons of Clarence G. Smith, of Midway, and the late Mrs. Smith, one-time residents of McSherrystown.

After completing their schooling in McSherrystown the Smiths learned the barber business in their father's McSherrystown shop. About 15 or more years ago they opened their own shop in Philadelphia and rapidly expanded into a prosperous business. Another brother, Bud, also has a barber shop in Philadelphia. Before they went to the City of Brotherly Love, the Smith boys toured the U.S. visiting every state.

Expand Business
Several years ago Joe and Jed branched out into the home furnishings business and have expanded to an annual sales of more than $200,000, all the while they continue to operate their barber shop.

The "Retailing Daily" article follows:
Philadelphia—The Smith brothers, Joe and Jed, were just a couple of "cut-ups" when they first became interested in the home furnishings business in Philadelphia.

These enterprising ex-barbers have, however, within four years parlayed their original investment into total sales of more than $200,000 a year. From present indications, they have laid aside shears and clippers for keeps, although Jed still owns a barber shop employing three men.

Doing what came naturally, Joe and Jed were barbers most of their lives until they more or less accidentally entered the home furnishings field. Both began to cut hair when they were 16 years old. There were 15 children in the Smith family, with four sons and the father, Clarence, barbering to provide food for a lot of hungry mouths.

Served In Army
Joe had his own barber shop when war broke out and he entered the Army—to continue cutting hair. Previously, though, he had bolstered his income by selling furniture and appliances from a back room of his shop.

Jed, meanwhile, began to sell fluorescent lighting fixtures on a part-time basis for a manufacturing friend of the family. The project proved so profitable that he joined with Joe in launching an electrical contracting business upon the latter's return from the service.

Later, as merchandise became available, they added furniture and appliances. It wasn't easy, Jed acted as sales representative in house-to-house canvassing; Joe did the buying and handled the books. They lost money the first year—but the brothers' fame began to spread.

At first, the Smiths were located at 4221 Ridge avenue. Parking proved a problem and the brothers were forced to pay so many parking tickets for their customers that they finally decided to pull up stakes.

"Beardless Smiths"
Now, operating as the "Beardless Smith Bros.," Joe and Jed maintain a retail outlet at 6335 Germantown avenue and an appliance concession in the mammoth clothing store operated by Dick Creen at 28th street and Allegheny avenue. There are only 2,000 square-feet available at the Germantown avenue outlet as compared to 24,000 at Creen's. But the brothers manage to make both operations pay handsome dividends.

Clip artists only in the barbering sense, they have built up an enviable reputation for reliability. The Beardless Smith Bros. advertise in three neighborhood weekly newspapers in addition to Philadelphia dailies. Their merchandising message is carried twice weekly over a Philadelphia radio station. And three outside salesmen account for a substantial share of the volume from live leads.

The company now has eight employees and a television service department is planned, in addition to a new truck bearing the "Beardless

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Otto and daughters, Linda, Jean and Cathy, R. 2, have returned from a motor trip to visit relatives at Rochester, N. Y., their former home. Mrs. Daisy Resser and Miss Ethel B. Resser have been entertaining Mrs. Resser's grandson, Fred Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Stauffer, Hanover, and also Barbara Eck, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Eck, York, formerly of here.

Mrs. A. E. Messenheimer, Manhattan, Kansas, has been spending some time here because of the illness and death of her father, Jacob D. Sower. Mr. Messenheimer and daughter, Miss Janet Messenheimer, who came here when Mr. Sower became seriously ill, recently returned home as did his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Messenheimer, who recently came from Kansas to reside in Washington, D. C., where the young man is a law student.

Daily Vacation Bible School sessions at the local high school building, which opened Monday, June 5, will be brought to a close on Friday. The school has been well-attended by children from all Protestant denominations of this area, including those of pre-school age.

Elaine Heiner has returned to the Smith Bros. legend. Eleven television lines are handled, including RCA Victor, Philco, Westinghouse, Admiral, Stromberg-Carlson, Hallcrafters and General Electric. The firm also specializes in kitchen planning.

While away, the group, chaperoned by a faculty advisor, Jack Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor, stayed at the Taft hotel.

A group of high school students of the vocational agriculture department made a trip to Washington, D. C., during the past week accompanied by their instructor, Herbert L. Heberlein.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Yohe and daughters, Beatrice and Joyce, formerly of R. 3, who have lived for a time in the York Springs area, have returned to this section, now occupying a Harry Laughman property on R. 2, near the Conewago Creek, west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Krout, who recently became the parents of their second daughter, have named her Norrene Elaine. Mrs. Krout was formerly Miss Ethel Gulden.

Eli J. Gross, who lost the sight of one eye within recent years, has been undertaking a series of treatments from a York specialist in an endeavor to save the sight of the remaining eye.

Mrs. William Boyer, near here, was honored on her birthday recently with a dinner party at the home of her son, Glen W. Boyer, his wife, and children. With these and the elder Mr. Boyer, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hilbert, Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Miller and daughters, Carolyn, Joyce, Lois and Rosalie, York Springs; Mrs. Gladys Boyer Camilleri, Mrs. Hannah Kauffman and the Robert Leer family. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Camilleri are daughters of the guest of honor.

Chapter 29

William smiled his charming, ingenuously smile, and said brightly: "Nice to see you, sir. Just back from New York?"

"I got in this afternoon. Magda came to meet me at the airport."

"Very filial of her, I'm sure."

"I went back to my apartment," said Mr. Hamlyn, "and changed and came here; I understand there was some kind of party for your birthday."

William had the grace to be distressed.

He said seriously with that discerning touch of boyish frankness that saved his skin so often, "I've absolutely no excuse. I had an awful afternoon at the studio. I quarreled with everyone, and finished up with a blaring row with Fraser. I simply went out and got tight."

Mr. Hamlyn looked thoughtfully at William, then said, "Come into the lounge, William, and have some coffee."

William drank his coffee. "Apparently they went straight off to the Moulin Rouge," he said. "I'm glad Magda didn't wait for me."

"Magda has gone," said Mr. Hamlyn.

"Gone where?"

"To Reno."

William put down his cup and stared, and then gave a queer little laugh.

"I was against the marriage from the start," said Mr. Hamlyn, "and I don't blame you for that, William. What made her decide to go?"

"I think I did, William. I know that Magda doesn't like failures, and this evening I was given a report on you from the studio. They have all had just about enough of you, my boy. So I told her. We've got someone else to play the part."

"Bailey said you would," William answered with politely bitter interest.

"But I understood from Blount and Nolan that they could not fire me."

"No, not exactly, but they needn't give you any parts. And if we offer you parts, any sort of parts—Mr. Hamlyn paused, letting this sink in—and you refuse to accept them, you have broken your contract."

William sat, his hands clasped loosely between his knees, wondering why the whole thing seemed so funny. He said apologetically, "This must be frightfully embarrassing to you, sir. After all, it was through you that I came. I do see that it's cost the company a lot of money and for nothing."

Mr. Hamlyn smiled gratefully. "It has been damned embarrassing. In my position you can afford to make mistakes, but not quite such big ones. Though I still don't think it was such a mistake," he added gently.

William looked at him, a little bewildered. "You mean you advise me to stay here and play a singing cowboy or something, on the chance of learning my business and getting some small good part?"

Mr. Hamlyn shook his head. "No, I advise you to ask us to release you, and I'll see they accept. If you want any money to help you home, let me know."

"No, thanks," William said hurriedly. "I can manage. Manage what? To go back home with his tail between his legs? What was there and who was there to go back to?"

Mr. Hamlyn rose quietly, as though they had been having quite a pleasant chat. "Well, I must be getting along now," he said, and went toward the door. "By the way—He paused. "That old guy Morton you used to work for is in New York to produce a play. I wonder how he'll make out on Broadway?"

The glass William had just filled fell from his hand and rolled unbroken on the soft white carpet, the spirit leaving a sticky brown stain as it rolled.

"Morton?" he said incredulously. "In New York? It's impossible. What on earth could have persuaded him to leave Broadway?"

"A very good play. If I hadn't seen him, myself, I wouldn't have believed it."

He went out leaving William there alone.

Katherine had heard various tales of Atlantic crossings, good and bad, but she rather suspected that no one had ever had one such a one as hers.

The minute the train drew out, I. M. brought out the script of the play, and the moment they were aboard, and the fuses of embarkation and boat drill were over, he started rehearsing her in her part.

A gale blew from the second day out, and Katherine was very sick. Morton, surrounded by remedies, was not. She was too ill to think of anything but hanging onto the rail of her bunk and remembering her words, while Morton paced the narrow space of the cabin, moving the chairs about, kneeling on the floor, clasping her in his arms as the script demanded, ignoring the startled looks of the steward and stewards, and the blank and fascinated face of Katherine's cabin companion, who completely forgot to be ill herself, so intrigued was she with this fat and bibulous gentleman who could pour out the passion of twenty-one without looking incongruous, who could gaze out of the porthole at a teeming boiling sea, and talk about the sunset over the roofs of Montparnasse, until you could see them yourself.

So, when the boat docked and she saw a familiar face and heard a familiar voice shouting, she turned, her heart leaping with relief and delight, ran straight across to Andrew, leaving Morton cursing and blaspheming in the midst of the indifferent, busy crowd.

"Oh, Andrew," she said delightedly, "I'm so glad to see you." And she put her arms around his neck and kissed him. He held her for a moment, his eyes searching her face, and then quite suddenly let her go. "I'm glad to see you, Kate. Have you loved me?"

"Yes," she said, "I've missed you."

The little crinkling, self-mocking smile touched Andrew's mouth. "Well, that's something," he said, taking her arm. "Come along. We'd better rescue L. M. before he has apoplexy."

Chapter 30

Andrew put Morton up in his apartment, the attic floor of an old brownstone house just off Lexington avenue. It was slightly reminiscent of South Kensington. Morton gasped and puffed at the stairs, but he was certainly more at home among Andrew's books and pictures, his pleasant rugs and comfortable modern furniture, and the portraits and souvenirs of Sarah Nolan's theatrical life, than he would have been in the efficient comfort of a hotel. There were only two bedrooms, so he found Katherine a room in a small, quiet hotel about ten minutes away.

It gave Andrew a thrill to see her bright eyes and flushed cheeks, and her eager, sympathetic interest in this, his home city. A European by experience and upbringing, he never realized how much a New Yorker he was until he returned to it, and he enjoyed Katherine's frank and ingenious homage.

"What do you like most about it here?" he asked.

"The feeling of excitement, of optimism and gaiety; the sort of sparkling feeling. You feel here that anything might happen and probably will."

"Anything else?"

"No." She shook her head, smiling. "Though I would like to see a curving street and a winding lane. The streets here are so straight and purposeful."

"You wouldn't like to live here, then?"

"Oh, I could live anywhere, so long as I was personally happy."

He said suddenly, as though the words were forced out of him, "Would you like to marry me?"

It seemed to both of them as though the whole world were in utter silence.

"All right," he said. "Forget it. I shan't forget it."

"I don't want to be told how honored you are and all that rot." He reached across and gripped her thin childish arms, giving her a little shake. "All right, I think I am in love with you, I have asked you to marry me, and you don't want to. But I'm not like you. Because you turn me down, it isn't the end of my world."

She was white to the lips as she said, "You told me in London I knew about love, and I must learn about friendship. I'm learning about it from you." She paused, and then said, "Thank you."

"You're very welcome," said Andrew, suddenly amused by her charming, childish gravity.

"I'm learning about strength, too," she said slowly. "If you love a person like William, it's no use being weak. You've got to be a strong person, so you can bounce back again."

"You've looked so happy lately," he said. "You've never spoken of him. I thought you'd forgotten."

She stared at him with complete amazement. "But didn't you understand? Didn't Morton tell you what really made me come?"

"Just that you were keen to play this part in 'The Singing Birds'?"

She looked horrified. "Andrew, how awful of him. I came because he told me that William was in trouble, that his marriage was breaking up, and I thought if I could get nearer to him, he might read somewhere that I was in New York, and if I could help, then he'd come to me."

He looked at her, feeling old, heavy, unimaginative. He tried to hurt her then, just as though he were shaking her, trying to shake some sense into her. "You realize what your life would be with him? You could be a great actress. He'll never admit that. He will have little sympathy with you, but he'll always demand it from you. There will be no security of any kind with William."

"There is no real security in life, anywhere, except in being able to love," she said.

"In that case," said Andrew soberly, "there's nothing more to be said."

It was about eleven when they reached her hotel, and Andrew went with her as far as the elevator. He was conscious of a queer sense of finality, as though it were their last meeting, although they were certain to meet in the morning.

Morton had filled in the week interviewing the prospective cast. Andrew had seeded through the lists in the office, picking names here and there to build up the cast of six. Morton had whittled the actors for the leading part down to four, and

AMERICANS MAY REPLACE ALIENS AT EMBASSIES

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, June 15 (AP)—State department officials today promised a study of a recommendation that the agency fire all the aliens it employs abroad and hire Americans instead for security reasons.

The recommendation came from Senator Green (D-R. I.) and Lodge (R-Mass.), who traveled to Europe last month to survey the department's security set-up overseas. They said last night in a report to the Senate:

"Aliens are the most likely means of foreign penetration and the effort to penetrate our security abroad is constantly growing."

The low pay the aliens in American employ receive "makes them a prey to bribery and pressure," the report added.

Need More Funds

State department officials told a reporter the Green-Lodge recommendations will get every careful consideration. The general feeling, however, was that Congress would have to provide the department with more money if the program is to be carried out.

The department said it now employs between 5,000 and 6,000 aliens at foreign posts around the world. Officials said they are assigned to non-secret work.

Lodge and Green said, however, that in many cases the aliens have access to confidential and secret material, and "often have not had a full field investigation."

Army Worms Sweep Bedford County Area

Bedford, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Farmers in Pennsylvania's Bedford county tightened their ranks today to battle an invading army—an army of caterpillars.

Thousands of the pests—identified by County Farm Agent L. R. Mollenauer as army worms—have been moving across a Bedford farm area leaving devastation in their wake.

Mollenauer said yesterday that several different types of insect sprays were being tried in an effort to halt the crop destruction. Corn in some fields was cut off at ground level. Hundreds of the caterpillars were ground to death by passing cars as they crossed highway route 56.

NINE AIRMEN DIE AS B-25 HITS MOUNTAIN

Circleville, W. Va., June 15 (AP)—A fire-blackened area near the top of Spruce Knob—highest mountain in West Virginia—marked the spot today where nine airmen were killed in the crash of an air force bomber.

The Utah-bound B-25 smashed into the mountain at dawn yesterday. Its two engines were found 1,500 feet from the point of impact. The wings sheared off. The fuselage was reduced to twisted pieces.

Two bodies were thrown into trees. Fire burned over a quarter-mile of the 4,800-foot high mountain, about 25 miles from the West Virginia-Virginia border.

The nine bodies were removed to an Elkins, W. Va., funeral home.

The plane was bound from Olmstead Air Base at Middletown, Pa., for a stopover at Offutt base in Nebraska. From there it was going to its home field near Ogden, Utah.

Three of the dead were Air Force regulars and five others were reservists. The ninth, a passenger, was stationed at the Hamilton Air Base, Calif. His name was not disclosed.

The others were identified as: Lt. C. T. Economos, Clearfield, Utah, the pilot; Lt. Harry W. Rogers (home address unavailable), and

Germany's Strength Reviving Rapidly

Philadelphia, June 15 (AP)—"Germany's strength is reviving with remarkable rapidity," the chief prosecutor of the Nuremberg war crimes trials said.

"Before very long the Germans' drive to regain economic and political — and eventually military — leadership in Europe, will be the salient feature of the European scene," Telford Taylor told the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia yesterday.

Taylor called for expansion and improvement of the occupation program for stimulating the growth of German democracy; support of the Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel resources of France, Germany and other European countries; and an international program to relieve and assist in the assimilation of the roughly eight million refugees from Eastern Europe now in Western Germany.

He would also continue effective prohibition of German rearmament.

Master Sgt. Neal M. Moss of Ogden, Utah, the Air Force regular, and these reservists:

Lt. Robert P. Burt, Lt. Kenneth G. Lester, Sgt. Sherman J. Bernard, Sgt. Gerald M. Wheelwright and Cpl. John H. Fearn, all of the Ogden area.

Investigators were sifting the wreckage to try to find a clue as to what caused the craft to crash.

Second Big French Plane Crashes In Persian Gulf; 22 Killed; 15 Are Missing

Bahrain Island, Persian Gulf, June 15 (AP)—Another big French passenger plane—the second in two days—crashed into the shark-infested Persian Gulf near here last night. At least 22 persons were killed in the new crash and 15 or 16 persons still are missing.

A crash of another Air France plane at almost the same spot Tuesday killed 46 persons. Since both planes were en route from Indo-China, where Communists lead a revolt against the French, the possibility of sabotage has not been discarded.

Thirteen survivors, all French citizens, were rescued last night and this morning, including the five crew members. There were either 50 or 51 persons aboard.

46 Lost Two Days Ago
The four-engine Air France C-54 Skymaster, bound from Saigon, Indo-China, to Paris, crashed only a half-mile from the point where 46 persons were lost in the ditching two days ago of a sister ship flying from Indo-China.

(In Paris an Air France spokesman said nothing known there indicated either plane might have been sabotaged by Communist-led rebels in Indo-China but that such a possibility would be investigated by an inquiry committee already at Bahrain.)

(The spokesman said from information in Paris, bad weather seemed to have been the probable cause of the crashes but that no official statement would be made until after a lengthy inquiry by the committee.)

(He added that special security precautions are taken for all flights from Indo-China to guard against the possibility of sabotage.)

Five Crewmen Rescued
(Air France said in Paris a dispatch from Karachi, Pakistan, the plane's last stop before last night's crash, reported that 43 passengers and eight crewmen were aboard the ship. First reports in Paris had said 45 persons were aboard.)

Those rescued today included five crew members.

The circumstances of both crashes were similar. Both planes went down as they were preparing to land at Bahrain, 20 miles off Saudi Arabia's east coast. Each sent a last message announcing preparations to land, then was heard from no more.

Bad weather conditions prevailed on both occasions in this area of sudden, strong storms.

Scour Crash Area
Tugs of the British-owned Bahrain Petroleum company and local launches today were scouring the crash area for more survivors. A U. S. Air Force rescue plane also aided in the search.

The plane was lying in about 30 feet of water. Searchers believed the bodies of most of the missing still were trapped inside it. Early today a crane barge was moored over the submerged bulk in an effort to lift it from the water intact.

Last night's disaster brought to more than 100 the number of persons dead or missing in French air crashes in two days. Of these, 46 died in the first crash off Bahrain Tuesday. At least 37 are dead or missing from last night's crash.

Another 16 are missing from a French military plane which disappeared while on a flight between two cities in Madagascar. Three more persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a private plane near Constantine, North Africa.

Littlestown

Littlestown — Littlestown Cub Scouts will be the guests of the Boy Scouts at Haines Shoe ranch on Friday afternoon and evening. They are requested to meet in front of the Photo shop, East King street, on Friday at 1 p.m. from where they will leave for York. Each cub is also requested to take a box lunch for supper. They will return home on Friday evening.

Members of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity will take their bus trip and outing on Friday, June 23. They will leave by bus for Boiling Springs at 5 p.m. from the home of Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, West King street. They will dine at the Allenberry Lodge at 6:30 p.m. and at 8:40 p.m. they will see the play, "I Remember Mama" at the Allenberry Playhouse, which is a summer stock theater. Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, president of the club, will distribute the tickets for the play to members who have made reservations, prior to the day of the trip.

The public as well as parents and friends are invited to attend the closing exercises of the Littlestown Daily Vacation Bible school on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in Reformed church. A brief program will be presented by each department. Pupils will report to their classrooms as usual at 9 a.m. in the grade school building, as there will be an hour of school prior to the closing exercises. At the close of the exercises, the children will return to their classrooms to receive their certificates. The visitors are also invited to return to the classrooms with the pupils as there will be open house, when various projects made in the school will be on display.

Rehearsal of the intermediate choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church will be held tonight at 6:30 o'clock instead of Friday as previously announced. Junior choir rehearsal will not be held. Robert DeGroft, director, has announced that there will be no further rehearsals of the junior and intermediate choirs until fall, excepting the rehearsal of the intermediate choir to be held tonight. Mr. DeGroft has also announced that a picnic and weiner roast will be held for all members of the junior and intermediate choirs on Saturday afternoon, June 24, at Sheffer's park, along the Gettysburg-Eigerville road. Members of both choirs are to meet at the church at 1 p.m. and transportation will be provided. This event is sponsored for the choirs by the Loyalty

Sunday school class of St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Bernard Dillman, South Queen street, was hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Centenary Methodist church on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Robert Crist, president, conducted the worship service, the theme of which was, "Faith in a World of Revolution." A business session was conducted by the president and Mrs. Samuel Bucke gave the secretary's report. There were 12 members in attendance. The treasurer's report was given to the society by the president on the improvements that are being made to the parsonage by the group. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Crist, Centennial avenue, Hanover, on Thursday, June 29. The meeting night has been advanced because of July 4.
